

Miss Skaife's 16 before 16 Reading Challenge

Pigeon English by Stephen Kelman	1984 by George Orwell	The Great Gatsby By F. Scott Fitzgerald	Ender's Game by Orson Scott Card
To Kill a Mockingbird by Harper Lee	Never Let Me Go by Kazuo Ishiguro	The Hate U Give by Angie Thomas	Frankenstein by Mary Shelley
The Book Thief by Markus Zusak	The Memory Cage by Ruth Eastman	Five People you Meet in Heaven by Mitch Albom	Notes from a Small Island by Bill Bryson
Ruby in the Smoke by Phillip Pullman	Salt to the Sea by Ruta Sepetys	Refugee Boy by Benjamin Zephaniah	Life as we Knew it by Susan Beth Pfeffer

Once you have read a book, see Miss Skaife in GT24 so it can be stamped off!

After finishing a book

Choose between 3-5 questions to answer

1. What genre is your book?
2. When was it written?
3. When is the story set?
4. How is the setting significant?
5. What themes, ideas, attitudes is the writer exploring?
6. What do you think the writer's intention was for writing the novel?
7. Has the writer changed your perception or understanding of the world at all?
8. Which character(s) do you find the most interesting and why?
9. Are there flaws with the writing? If so, how?
10. How does the writer structure their writing? What effect do you think they wanted to have?
11. How does the writer use language for effect?
12. Who would you recommend this book to and why?
13. Would you read anymore texts by the same author/genre?